

The Devils Views...

Education

I hate and despise the British Education system, and I think it set me back years. As I shouldn't have to waste time undoing my Christian brains washing, and developing the spine to overrule atheists and their science, which is just as bad as religion as they go "Its impossible", "you can't do that" as I no longer believe in the rules anymore!

Your science is out of date, your teaching kids to regurgitate crap as though it's a religion. maths has no part in science, and your scientists are desperately trying to hide behind it in order to avoid explaining anything at all. you only have to write all the facts out to see the mess were in.

<http://www.thesextree.co.uk/sextree/chemistry/facts.aspx>

and this is what we should be doing with kids from day one. hit them with everything, blow their minds away with the contradictions to show how stupid the adults are so they will want to investigate more. like Einstein and Faraday rather than trying to quote crap. as I'm sick and tired of meeting university lecturers quoting philosophers and other famous works as though it makes them clever, as it does not. Not one of them is able for formulate their own ideas and quote themselves!

I have nothing but contempt for academia currently. exams are worth st. as we should be trying to move things on, not going I don't believe that. because x told me so.

We should be teaching our kids because we want to see them succeed, not because we want to the money for it.

Anyone who says something is impossible should be fired. Critical thinking as a must, and we must teach the psychic side. I don't care about belief. I care about facts, and what you can prove. Which means I need kids to start experimenting with clairvoyance, dream work and other stuff so we can move religion on.

Believe nothing, question everything and still they listen to nothing. Its too dangerous, you can't do that. blocks its that kind of conditioning which turns them into slaves.

Finance, the law and philosophy should be taught to everyone, I shouldn't have to come back to it years later and learn it my sel. and to make matters worse. I have to go trawling through wikepedia, google to get to the bottom of things, and yes you've guessed it. all those courses/research and experiments I do on my own. contradict the rest of the world, or what I am taught at school. and still I have to witness 9 year olds coming away. going it must be true they taught me at school, and they know everything there is! wrong! the British education system couldn't teach squat and it should be compulsory to have a disclaimer on the top of every exam. saying this lot is probably wrong!

I do not see the need to pay over £10k for a bunch of morons to sign off on my work, and my research as I can deliver the facts on my own. not that it matters as my experience count for st in the west. the western mind is too lazy to try any experiment which involves the mind, they would rather buy an off the shelf one, and listen to an atheist approach. you can't go round proving third party communication beyond the five senses, it would be a crisis of faith.

If god came first? who created god? and how can anything create itself? and what stops more then one, creating themselves simultaneously? and just how exactly is the big band supposed to create something from nothing as well? is it me or is the problem the same, totally impossible and ergo proof the impossible exists, and as such means all your rules/laws are wrong.

As if something can be created from nothing, it means I can do the same, as I don't need to be bound by any rules! your maths is wrong! and I am only bound by the petty conditioning of your lies, your negativity and well yes I can! though it might take be awhile to go up against you incompetence on mass. One against many to break their reality and move people on for once!

Yes I hate the west, and everything it stands for here. it is arrogant, racist and stupid and everyone who ever did anything good in this country flunked the system as a whole! which tells you school is only good if you want to be an employee, or a slave for the rest of your life. anyone with a brain – ignores the grades, researches on their own, and demonstrates it practically. at which point the reward is money! while all those academic eitest snobs who regurgitate their crap, die penyles and broke. but not before they have successfully brain washed another generation of kids into not questioning anything at all!

so yes I resent the west, and everything and the lies I were taught at school. I wish I had grabbed a psychic meditation cd sooner, and learnt akido as well (i.e.

The Devils Views...

stuck with it) and meditation in general, and how I resent ever been taken in by religion, christians and their fear. I should have told them to go to hell sooner, learnt their books, and destroyed them at will!

You feel stupid when you try doing visualisation of charkras and things like that. we are taught with leading questions, implying its wrong, and kids lap it up, as our text books and to word things like the idea of one god" is more enlightened, or they used to believe in fire, earth, air and water and that was crap. well after years of research I'm starting to come to the conclusion that fire/earth/air and water (or metal and wood) is actually a better fKing analogy for it – then the quantum physics crap , as not one of you seems able to write the entire lot up, in one cohesive theory which actually makes sense. you try and pull a load of formulas into it, which are no use to anyone. Unless you are trying to build something, and before that you need to know how it works, and what's available to you! Then you go for proof, which is the problem as you don't really need the maths for that, just the finished article (trying to cut corners/be efficient as possible when you make your cut.

Anyway it's a waste of time, science religion as its only the money which speaks. The rest is hearsay as it rare for anyone to actually verify anything at all. Certainly on the psychic side, it takes too long (no it doesn't!) and already I am missing the point education, not name calling again.

I think kids should be taught as much as possible early on, those who have a knack for things should be moved on, and well those who aren't perhaps should stay at that grade until they get it right. as its pointless moving on, if you haven't got the foundations right. maths is either easy or hard. there is no in-between, and trying to jump ahead, just confuses the crap out of you. [In my opinion]

we should be using the likes of the Michael Thomas language cds to teach language, as the grammar is useless until you hit a certain point and it's the only way u learnt anything at all. playing constantly in the background, till it sunk in! the odd words here, and there, and finally I could actually formulate a sentence – not a very good sentence, but more then I ever did at school! Whether my French ex, would understand me (or me her) is another matter entirely though, but at least I know French. which is more, then I did at school! As copying those word lists out don't work, they have never worked, until you actually start speaking the language, and need more word...

as I reflect on the point of exams! I have forgotten the facts, and all that crap I regurgitated at school (I had to – to move on, most of it is wrong. see Newton physics/Christianity for more)

Argument matters, the freedom of expression, image and art as no one reads anything anymore. you have to be good at creating an illusion, so they actually think your good. as they are all talking out their arse, its all bluff, and bluster, but yes I'm sorry to say. I do see images in my head, and auras and yes.. YOU CAN PROVE THAT ITS NOT OLD READING AND BODY LANGUAGE AT ALL which is part of the problem around here, as one you get over that hurdle, all the religions, and their leap of faith fall into place, as its difficult to prove more at times.

Its easy to read into a situation, and its easy to forget, as you go I don't want to deal with that anomyle it breaks my rule, it breaks my formula and oh dear its right.

if you can't prove what it is, you can perhaps prove what it isn't, and there by what ever is left, must be he truth! Just don't expect anyone to believe your testimony, in the west.

Which is another problem. mental health – anyone daring to speak about this stuff, is liable to have a break in, as we seem to penalise anyone for speaking their mind. you end up with some illiterate fkwit of a doctor trying to sign off on you. someone who hasn't read around the subject at all, and why is he in mental health again? which is another bug bear of mine. the western mind set, of the blind trying to steal the eyes of those who an see. in an attempt to hide the truth, because anyone who dares demonstrate experiences which are inconsistent with their denial, is automatically rendered insane! psychiatrists should be shot on site, there is no uh thing as schizophrenia, bi polar or anything else, is just a conspiracy by morons trying to suppress people again. much like religion, a nee form of slavery and fear and we would be better off seeing the back of the lot! as I have no respect for that industry at all as they are centuries behind occult research, because of their prejudice there

We should be teaching Crowley^[1] not Christ in our schools! or at least we should be separating the polities out, as I am sick of the moralists trying to control how people, think behave and are. and its no wonder we have so much misery in the world, when the system is trying to stop people getting good, so they can leach off them instead and I've had enough with the lot!

[1] one of the British greats, from the golden dawn era which is censored at best. I shouldn't be 28 when I find the tree of life.

Ofstead is a waste of money, we should be teaching kids to think, you know which school are good from their end of year grades. you don't need the other inspections as well, and the ounce should be on research and sharing your facts. Which means we have to train people to stop persecuting people who speak their mind, as too many companies use appearance, look and views against you to the point, people are scared of speaking their mind. I don't want to live in that world anymore!

Other than that, what can I say.

You learn more by doing a thing, and we need people to learn from those who know the skill! as they make it up as they go along anyway, as it takes too long for knowledge to creep back into the school system as is and we should all be able to go back, for refresher courses periodically, just to keep up.

keep your own list of facts, and add to it with time.

People should be taught to appreciate their bodies and to use condoms as well. The technique of the churches to teach absonance is nothing more then a deliberate ploy to make people feel guilty about themselves, and their emotion, which is designed to induce yet more slavery and fear into the system and the people at large. Individuals need to come to terms with their bodies, and themselves, and learn to enjoy life once more.

We have a duty to pass the facts on, so they an make their own choice, free of interference and pressure from all concerned, if anything the people and adults need to learn to trust one another again! We don't currently.

Deliberately passing on propaganda looses the respect of the young, and sooner or later they wake up to it, and rebel! If you want to stay on good terms with them through to old age, your going to have to let them go/let them make their own choices in life, you shouldn't be trying to impose your belief set on them, or trying to shout them down, shut them up, or stop them doing their own thing when they try and pass their views on, as the grass is always greener on the other side, and sooner or later you realise that money isn't everything and this life is a waste of time! as this "game" isn't even fun anymore!

I have nothing but contempt for government, parliament and the law. Parliament is not the law, and the kids should be taught this as well. no "Majority" has the right to impose its views on a minority, as that's what Hitler did, as its like 7 men vote the right to rape a women in, and that's wrong, no consent (unless she does consent, in which case shes a fool!)

as there are too many morons as is (The NHS mainly) going we can't do that its protocol, which is b*Iloks what they actually mean to say, is they could do it, but they are scared of getting into trouble. and so will actually break the law and illegally detain someone for longer, because that's the mentality of the system I guess.

Currently the British Computer Society is threatening me with disciplinary action, for bring the industry into disrupted! Accusing me of advertising a sex site www.thesextree.co.uk [my fKing site] and in turn am considering filing a law suit against them with the high court for deformation as well.

as that site is my life, and I have worked hard to pass my knowledge on. It covers everything from polities to the occult, and when I opened up about my experiences (the psychic side) I was persecuted for it. so I battle on trying to run a social networking site with no money at all, in an effort to compete against the American sites: myspace, facebook, twitter, okcupid and others like that.

I have no support, I have no benefit. My only income being £5100 a year from another house I rented out, this has not tenant in. I own two homes, I can't afford my mortgages, I am defaulting on everything, and am faing law suits every day from the council claiming I owe them money in tax, while they pay others who have never worked a day off.

I used to earn over £35 an hour at my peak, a cosy 2 year contract with one of the banks, and used to rake it in, not anymore. I learned the occult, and spoke about my experiences live. I choose the devil not god! I made a choice to loose the fear, to speak my mind, and be myself. and it destroyed my utterly. as these vultures (the system) are more concerned with shutting me up then anything at all.

the BCS accuse me of

"failing to uphold the reputation of the profession" for not acting with integrity in my relationships to other people while carrying out my profession, and not having due regard for the consequences of my statements on others. When I made a request for help, from the other members . Which in turn was a response, to someone asking for a confirmation back) and well I no longer care as I have devoted over 12 years trying to do my best for the profession, and to have those fkwits come back at me, for trying to advertise my own site, my own business while I'm going bankrupt, as they slag me off publicly for being a sex site was bad enough, but to accuse me of not having regard for my statements on others is beyond the pale. as enough is enough, and they an take their chartered status "MBCS CITP" and shove it up their arse, as they have no regard to the progression and business at all. they continue to propagate the same fear, and the same myths in order to con people out of more money, and make them look important. "you can't do that" its going to lead to identity, theft, or you better not do that, and its crap! another excuse to scare people off doing anything, and well I've made my mind up. they are a waste of time, and a waste of money, and If I ever did make it (unlikely) I would not touch their membership at all, as they are bunch of negative neighs sayers, and I have nothing but contempt for them now.

I regret being taken in by letters, and academia at a very young age, it's a waste of time. I should have just left and tried my own Company then. I wished I had read the likes of rich dad, poor dad sooner, and well learnt to think for myself instead. took a French women and a few random encounters with psychics/gypsies to get me speaking my mind, but it all comes too late in the end.

I can't afford to loose a law suit against them (no money for costs), and yet I think I have no choice and if and when I sue them for deformation, and while part of me thinks I have no choice to fight this one out, my reputations on the line, and yet I know in truth thesextree will speak itself, and I have no need for letters anymore, as I live and die by what I put out. I just wished Id learn to proof read more, sooner that is all!

The BCS can go to hell, Durham Council can go to hell – they know I'm not on benefit, brining nothing in, and the Christian church can go to hell, for all the mystery its caused. and yes Britain as well, for continuing ti fk the people over, breaking into peoples homes illegally, and I've had enough. we introduced Europe for a reason (both Europes in fact!) and that reason has been lost in Britian today. mais c'est la vive, je devine... time moves on, and we forget why!

much like I forget why I was writing this, the hair broke. Damocles forgot, and the rest is history for the pigs walked again, and that's the problem : parliament is not the law! as that stands above us uncensored and unwritten for no man, government or religion shall steal the law, write the law, or claim it as their own. as we are all free man, and no amount of numbers (or flag) will ever give you the right to dictate to another group of people what they an and can't do. as I have the same right to bare arms as americia does. I am but one man, and claim the same rights in law as they do. for its my body, and my right to dictate what goes into it. If I want to take drugs, smoke dope, while being chained to a bed, as two lesbians make lover to me, as I try and perform Gnostic trance in the devils name, that is my right, as a free man, obviously I may not want to do all those things, but if everyone consent I see no reason not to. As its not any concern of yours what we do!

Obviously anyone has a right to defend their person, and their land from aggression, as much as I have the right to renounce British citizenship to form my own state (See article 15, article 17 of the united nations declaration of rights) as I refuse to kneel to tyranny anymore. screw the lot, and screw the BCs they are morons everyone one, and I have no respect for them anymore.

too much persecution, too much mystery and too little time, as money is everything now. Britain screws you in the end, which is perhaps the only education you ever need to know, there are exceptions to the rule, but the many will take you down, and its just a matter of time. do you recant, and tell them what they want to know? or do you stick to your guns and die a martyrs death, in the hope that one day the truth will come out! not that it matters anyway, but life moves on, and we suck at this.

never surrender the high ground, and assume everyone on this planet is going to screw you over until proven otherwise. However my view is trust them, until they betray you as someone has to make the first move, and well the rest is history again...

It needs a rewrite, much as this article does – but why bother really? you think your coming back here, and need reminder? one which tip the balance, and buy you time, or is it for other people? and if so why... as I give up, really I do.

Socrates was right, they are crap, and I really need hemlock now, as this game is dull!

[draft article - work in progress, needs another rewrite here – why do they think Dawking is good? is it because he actually got off his arse and finished that crap book, or the fact he managed to find a publisher at all? as this lot doesn't flow at all]

- Yes kids should have the choice of eating vegetables for lunch
- I don't care what religion/political party a teacher is from, so long as they do their job and teach the kids to keep an open mind and to build on the knowledge of yesteryear, rather than living in fear/a slave to the system as is.
