

The Devils Views...

The Right to Bare Arms

The Many do not rule the one, and as the one, I trust the many not at all, power corrupts and the many will always screw the one eventually, unless the one can defend themselves of course.

and so it goes, the many want their armies, to protect their land, while trying to subjugate the rest to their fear, as they seek dominion over one and all. and yet we're all equal here.

No amount of numbers give you the right to dictate to another set of people what they can and can't do. your not allowed to attack, only defend, and that's the law of the land.

and I'm sic of people having trouble with this, you do not have the right to resort to bully tactics and go we're a democracy here, surrender your weapons, while at the same time keeping your standing armies, in war and peace, as we the people have rights to. the same as parliament.

as the one shall be, and never will be ruled by fkwits, and I have the right to defend myself, and any who answer my call, are welcome to join me, as I am happy to defend my land to the end of days, and anyone who needs my help.

I will strive to do the minimum required to defend myself, and any who would seek my protection (why? I'm weak) you can't assume someone is going to attack you, because they are building up arms, it could just be paranoia, as the first thing I want to do, when government starts stripping rights away, is go for the guns, go for the knives, and well defend my land from aggression, as there is no way I am going to bow to fear, and live a slave, and if they invade my land again, someones going to die, as no quarter will be given, to anyone claiming authority over me, I rule my land, not you, and that's how it stays.

now by all means, debate with the devil, and argue your point, but we will defend ourselves, to the best of our ability, and we will kill any who invade our land, period.

do not shoot, until fired upon, and hold the line, as they have to cross first. unless it's a nuke, at which point, it may be advised to blow it up/deactivate it before it detonate, assuming its being used. I have no issue with individuals who own nukes, (id rather they didn't) but as long as governments do, its hard to argue otherwise, as I see no difference between the one and the many, and we shall do what it takes to defend our land, period.

i.e. your numbers count for shit here, its rebuild the hot gates time, funnel them in, as we face a glorious death, in the defence of freedom!

if we are being illegally detained, we reserve the right to kill anyone who stands in our way, to get back to our land, and restore freedom again, your courts are ultra vires, and we will do what is necessary to defend our land.

we will never attack anyone (we're not American) and we will only take the war into their land, if they continue to invade ours.

i.e. we want to use reason first, violence is a last resort, but don't assume we will stand by and do nothing when evil comes, as the devil rules here, not you.

We prefer the idea of akido being taught to school children, as we think everyone has the right to take the many down, with the minimum of harm, and skill. i.e. those who fight for god are sloppy, and we can do better than that, spot the flaw, and use skill instead.

this really should have been one page, I crossed the line, that was bad, never cross the line, hold back, and wait for them to screw up first, as you can't assume anything with kama. i.e. defence, defence, defence, and yes it will be against a superior force, it always is, and yes honour sucks, but we're better than them, and this is freedom, not slavery... we protect consent, we protect honour, and the right to choose inter alia bon sur

I have no issue with people selling land, to another nation voluntarily, with their own free will, which is perhaps the only legitimate form of expansion left. as once you neutralise a foe, and remove the threat, you have no right to claim their land, it goes to the next in line, and well if they screw you over then deal with it then, not before, i.e. vengeance sucks, and you have to give people the chance to deal with it.

If you want to settle your dispute by duelling fine, but no one has to do anything (which is the point) and anyone who doesn't consent shouldn't get hurt. so please show all due respect, and try and find an alternative route. like a third party.

In the meantime, one should observe that no one has the right to impose their will on any other, without their consent and we work together because we want to, on the understanding its in all our interests, and the moment people forget that, try and instil a hierarchy – then evil wins, and you end up with someone like hitler who was perhaps the perfect culmination of Christian, religious teachings, i.e. the many imposing their will on the weak, in order to impose the perfect race. this is wrong, we are fine the way we are, and should embrace our differences, as we work together because we want to.

and as such, we will not threaten and or punish anyone, who doesn't want to be like us, we shall merely leave them alone, and help if we can, in the meantime our doors are open (this is hell) to anyone who would be punished by that lot, as they are an evil race, who look to impose their will/and image on people they hate, in order to form the perfect utopia which they call heaven, I think.

in the meantime, so try and make room for them, if they give you any trouble kick their ass, in the meantime, treat them with respect, until we can find a use for them. in the meantime, we are going broke here, and I need to bring some money in, so I am going to try and sell our skills to the highest bidder, in the hope we can make some more room down here, as really we're screwed as is!

so please try and share, as we're short of resources, and yes discipline counts but no one has the right to tell anyone what do, as we're all equal here, right? good, move it on along, as I need a break.
