

One Life, One Vote Europe Needs You Britian Needs you.

Campaigning for the first democratically elected president of Europe.

2005 election. UK Population = 60,209,500

Eligible Voters = 44245939

Votes counted = 27148510

Labour majority = 36% of those voted = 16% of the national vote that's not legitimate, 51% is.

New Labour, New Auswitch

Giving you Britain, the most undemocratic state In Europe, and getting worse by the day.

That's before we even look at the executive who no one voted for. Separation of powers? Who needs that they say? You have a stick, go straight to prison, do not pass go. No intent required, you play paintball – terrorist training camp! Your freedom hangs by a thread. The ECJ is your last and only line of defence. Without the charter of fundamental rights begin at the core. Protecting us from this rise in tyranny, all is lost!

It's worth remembering. The executive sits on the European Council (comparable to the us senate) No election, no 51% majority and they have a say on all European matters, which overrule uk state statues" UK law, and freedom isn't worth a dime if we don't move to secure democracy where it counts, back home and abroad. Europe Matters More

Yet wait: 2002 elections in Iraq Population = 2424600

Votes counted for Saddam = 11445638 42.7% of the vote.

(That's with no competition AND NO RON! Yet wait just look at the British elections!)

Compare the choice for UK Voters in Durham. Choose between twiddle dee and twiddle dum and no ability to cast a no vote. Democracy is blind with British justice getting a blow job. The MOJ intent to throw liberty away - With no hope of your fundamental rights being protected or granted. The loss of free legal aid, the loss of a fair trial, the loss of liberty and id cards on the way. The return of fascism by the back door. If you want your freedom, liberty and democracy, Fight for Europe, and protect our rights.
