

I think government should cost no more than £428 Billion a year instead of the £673 billion its at now. Expenditure should be 35% of constant and current GDP. They have already overspent by 175 billion this year already and are getting worse, with gross debt raising to 886 billion in 2009.

Lost in the Woods?

Then Find The Tree

www.thesextree.co.uk

The Devil Comes

Vote Gareth Bowen Instead

(A Psychic Gothic BDSM Satanic Communist^[1] Witch Looking for Change as One Against Many For Freedom Again)

While Fighting for Freedom on the International Scene

Will Legalise Drugs and The Right To Bare Arms , Pro Abortion, Pro Business, Pro Europe, Yes To Freedom of Movement, No To Council Tax, No To TV Licence , No to Business Rates, No To Censorship. Wanked for Freedom and Argued "Parliament is not the law" in the Royal Courts of Justice against the council and yes I would cut £275 BILLION OFF the yearly budget right now across the board Immediately and I would give the Lords their power back to audit parliament. The pigs have walked and its time to get our freedom back again

BTW between the years 1991 to 1997 UK Tax Revenue was less than 35% of GDP according to the OCED Stats Database, when I actually checked the facts later - funny that...

See <http://www.thesextree.co.uk/sextree/tax/taxslip.aspx> for my taxation/budget system mock up

[1] Any group can declare themselves an independent state of one if need be. ergo I am communist through and through... as we work together because we want to, not through force of arms: see article 15, 17 of the united nations declaration of rights for more. i.e. i may get married and share my property...